

Shared Value Project of the Year AXA and Telehealth

The Challenge

During these unprecedented times, many people who need healthcare do not have access to it because they live in remote areas, have a fear of going to hospitals, or are simply in lockdown.

This lack of professional healthcare could be detrimental to people's health, both physically and mentally. And this can become a major setback for both individuals and society.

The Opportunity

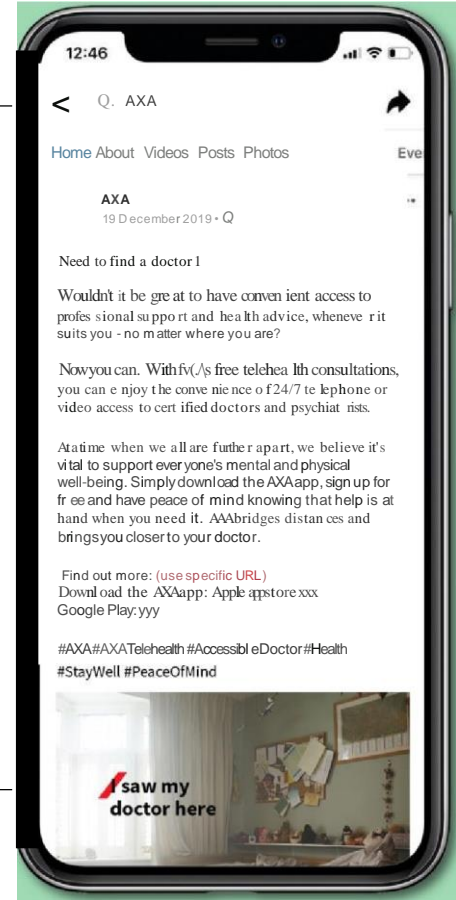

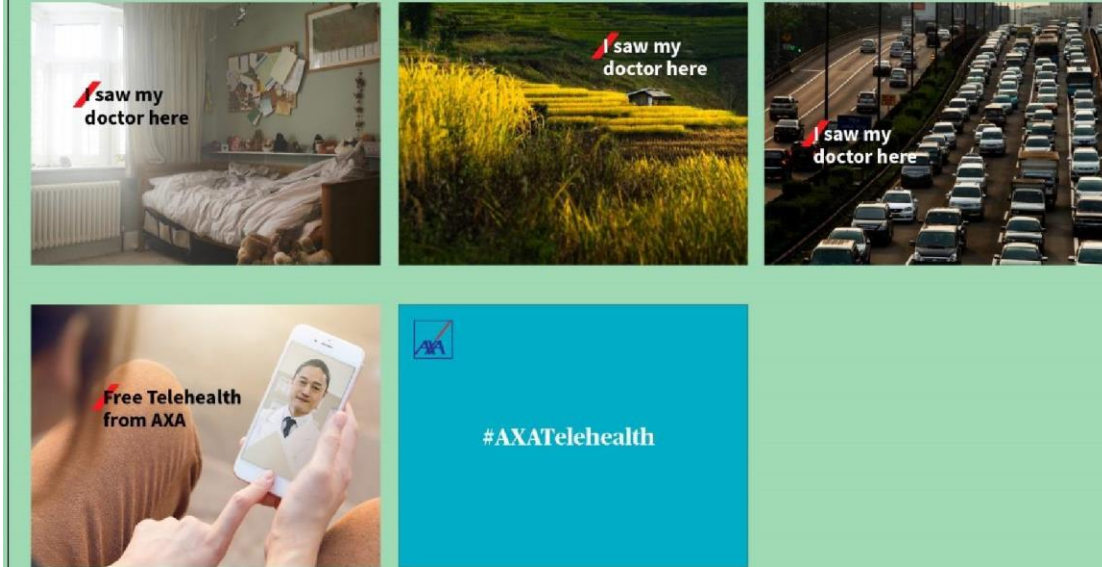

Serve as a Partner by alleviating physical, mental and emotional pressures for people and communities

The Task

Provide actionable tools and solutions
